Agenda – Handover from old councillors

Code of conduct

Our role

AOB

Some of the old councillors were present and welcomed the new councillors. They each told us a little about what they had enjoyed doing with the School Council. They also explained that they had signed a Code of Conduct and that they had input into what that should contain.

We discussed what a Code of Conduct is. Everyone agreed that we should have one and we talked about how we felt as Councillors we must uphold the school GARK values and be role models. Mrs Stubbs gathered thoughts on specifics that this should contain and will present a draft Code of Conduct for approval at the next meeting.

The Councillors want to continue to work with the school and wider community and especially would like to keep working with the food bank. They suggested that as part of their role they would like to engage with visitors and show them around and be more present around the school. They felt that they could be used more to work with younger children and Mrs Stubbs suggested that we discuss the Wellbeing Champion scheme at the next meeting

There was not any other business. Mrs Stubbs gave each Councillor a book to keep in their draw to use for notes and gathering information. This is to be bought to each meeting.
